Our Vision for Reconciliation

CPL Group's vision for reconciliation is equality and meaningful engagement between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and all Australians within the disability sector.

Through our services with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, we will listen and connect with the communities we work with, build cultural resources, remove barriers to equal participation and work to the best of our abilities to develop sustainable employment and business opportunities.

As individuals and as an organisation, we strive to be proactive in our contribution to the efforts of healing the harm caused to many generations of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, through past injustices, discriminatory policies, and social attitudes.

Respect and Understanding

As individuals and as an organisation, we acknowledge the enduring impact of past injustices, discriminatory policies, and harmful social attitudes on Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

We are committed to actively contributing to healing and reconciliation by embedding respect, advancing understanding, and taking purposeful action that supports self-determination, equity, and cultural safety.

CEO's Message

I am proud to present CPL Group's third Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP), which outlines our continued commitment to supporting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples across the communities we support.

For many years CPL Group has worked alongside Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples through the services we deliver and the relationships we build across Queensland and Northern New South Wales. Our previous RAPs helped us bring greater structure to this work by strengthening relationships, increasing cultural awareness across our workforce and creating opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

Shortly after commencing our second Innovate RAP in 2023, CPL Group, like many disability organisations experienced a challenging period as we worked to strengthen the sustainability of our organisation whilst continuing to deliver important, quality services to clients. Despite these challenges, we remained committed to reconciliation through the ongoing work of our RAPWG, acknowledging National Reconciliation Week and NAIDOC Week, and supporting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to access education and employment opportunities.

As one of the largest providers of disability support and aged care services across Queensland and Northern NSW we are passionate about advocacy, inclusion, diversity and creative positive change for people with disability. Through this third Innovate RAP, we will continue to strengthen relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Communities so we can increase our cultural understanding further.

We look forward to sharing updates on our progress and continuing our reconciliation journey together.

Reconciliation Australia

Reconciliation Australia commends CPL on the formal endorsement of its third Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP).

Since 2006, RAPs have provided a framework for organisations to leverage their structures and diverse spheres of influence to support the national reconciliation movement.

With over 5.5 million people now either working or studying in an organisation with a RAP, the program's potential for impact is greater than ever. CPL continues to be part of a strong network of more than 3,000 corporate, government, and not-for-profit organisations that have taken goodwill and transformed it into action.

The four RAP types — Reflect, Innovate, Stretch and Elevate — allow RAP partners to continuously strengthen reconciliation commitments and constantly strive to apply learnings in new ways.

An Innovate RAP is a crucial and rewarding period in an organisation's reconciliation journey. It is a time to build the strong foundations and relationships that ensure sustainable, thoughtful, and impactful RAP outcomes into the future.

An integral part of building these foundations is reflecting on and cataloguing the successes and challenges of previous RAPs. Learnings gained through effort and innovation are invaluable resources that CPL will continuously draw upon to create RAP commitments rooted in experience and maturity.

These learnings extend to CPL using the lens of reconciliation to better understand its core business, sphere of influence, and diverse community of staff and stakeholders.

The RAP program's emphasis on relationships, respect, and opportunities gives organisations a framework from which to foster connections with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples rooted in mutual collaboration and trust.

This Innovate RAP is an opportunity for CPL to strengthen these relationships, gain crucial experience, and nurture connections that will become the lifeblood of its future RAP commitments. By enabling and empowering staff to contribute to this process, CPL will ensure shared and cooperative success in the long-term.

Gaining experience and reflecting on pertinent learnings will ensure the sustainability of CPL's future RAPs and reconciliation initiatives, providing meaningful impact toward Australia's reconciliation journey.

Congratulations CPL on your third Innovate RAP and I look forward to following your ongoing reconciliation journey.

About CPL Group

CPL – Choice, Passion, Life was founded in 1948 by a group of family members who wanted more opportunities for their children with disability.

Over the past 78 years, CPL's growth across Queensland and Northern New South Wales has led to the formation of the CPL Group, which includes CPL's disability support services, aged care services, Mylestones Employment, Cootharinga, and Access Arts.

As individual entities and as a Group, we share a strong passion for:

- Advocacy
- Diversity
- Inclusion, and
- Creating change for people with disability

This shared purpose brings together employees and clients from a wide range of backgrounds, to work each day towards supporting people with disability to live their lives with choice and control.

Our Values

Our Way brings our values to life across CPL Group. It sets the standard for how we behave with each other and with the people we support, no matter our role, location or brand.

Understand the person

Recognising each client and employee as an individual, respecting their choices and shaping your approach around what matters most to them.

Give great service

Delivering high quality supports to clients and to each other that is consistent, safe, reliable and focused on what matters to that person.

Work together

Together has strength. Collaborating between teams, brands, locations and across the community to create better outcomes.

Find better ways

Improving how you work to provide better outcomes and experiences for clients and employees.

Our People

Across Queensland and Northern New South Wales, the CPL Group employs approximately 2,637 staff.

These employees include a diverse mix of full-time, part-time and casual roles, supported employees, contractors and volunteers who work in client-facing and corporate functions. They contribute to a broad range of activities from direct disability support and therapy services to organisational leadership, community development and business administration.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Workforce Representation

At the development of this RAP, 2.31 per cent of active employees (61 of 2,637) identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples. Within Mylestones, 2.73 per cent of active employees (7 of 256) identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples.

These figures demonstrate our ongoing commitment to culturally safe and inclusive workplaces where First Nations employees feel respected, supported, and valued.

In March 2025, our workforce participated in the Great Place to Work survey, benchmarked against thousands of Australian organisations. The survey included a diversity census to measure inclusion outcomes for Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander employees.

The results highlighted positive outcomes for our First Nations employees:

- 70% agreed CPL Group is a great place to work, compared to 60% across other Australian organisations.
- 81% agreed that people are treated fairly regardless of race, which is ten percentage points higher than the Australian average.
- 81% indicated they want to work here for a long time, eight percentage points above the benchmark.
- 74% agreed that people care about each other here, five percentage points above the benchmark.

These results affirm that our initiatives are creating a supportive and inclusive environment for First Nations employees, and we remain committed to building on this progress across the organisation.

Our RAP

Through this third Innovate RAP, it is our intention to deliver reconciliation actions which will build strong and respectful relationships, increase equality and develop sustainable employment, business opportunities and positive outcomes, for all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees, clients, partners and the communities we work with.

Rebecca Kellie at a “Reconciliation in Action – Continuing the Conversation” event held in Townsville.

In 2025, the Executive Leadership Team endorsed CPL Group’s inaugural Diversity and Inclusion Strategy, which sets the overarching framework for building a welcoming, inclusive and equitable workplace for all. The strategy includes a strong and deliberate focus on First Nations peoples, recognising their unique place in Australia’s history and society.

This Innovate RAP sits within that broader framework and reflects our ongoing commitment to reconciliation. It outlines practical actions to strengthen relationships, respect, and opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, developed and delivered in partnership with First Nations communities.

Through a co-design approach, we seek to support self-determination and ensure our actions align with, and reinforce, the priorities outlined in our Diversity and Inclusion Strategy.

As an organisation working across diverse communities and regions, we recognise that meaningful reconciliation requires time and strong local relationships. We also recognise the current operating environment for disability service providers, including increasing financial sustainability pressures, rising costs and funding constraints that impact the capacity of organisations. In this context, we will take a considered and staged approach to delivery.

We will build on the foundations established through our previous RAPs, with a focus on embedding actions in a way that is practical and sustainable.

This includes prioritising relationship-building, piloting initiatives in key areas, and scaling these over time based on what we learn and where we can have the greatest impact.

Our focus areas for Reconciliation

Our energy and skills will continue to focus predominantly on four areas:

Building relationships to promote reconciliation

Developing culturally appropriate resources and sharing this knowledge with employees, clients, and partners through open and respectful communication.

Raising awareness, advocating, and influencing for improved, culturally relevant disability services for Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples, and

Continuing to improve education and working towards removing barriers to equal participation for all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities.

Our RAP Working Group

Our RAPWG consists of members who identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait people, allies and leaders. Members represent different geographical service locations and various roles across the organisation. Some members have been part of the RAPWG since its formation.

The group experienced some turnover during our second Innovate RAP due to organisational changes. New members are always welcome, and some members participate when they have the capacity to do so. The RAPWG Chair is the Learning and Organisational Development Manager.

The person in this role coordinates RAP activities and is responsible for developing the project plan and timeline for implementation of the RAP, along with directly implementing deliverables as outlined within the document.

Our RAP

Our journey to reconciliation

Our first RAP helped us lay the foundations to build relationships to promote reconciliation, develop culturally appropriate resources, provide education supporting cultural awareness, and work towards removing barriers to equal participation.

During this period, we were delighted to deliver over 90 actions and deliverables, but we also used this time to listen, reflect and acknowledge that current and historical policies and circumstances need to change for Australia's First Peoples.

Shortly after commencing our second Innovate RAP in July 2023, CPL Group experienced two challenging years where we worked hard to build a strong and sustainable future for our organisation. Weathering the challenges within the sector for clients accessing the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) meant making some tough choices to ensure our organisations can keep doing what matters most; providing quality services for our clients and supporting the people who deliver them.

Despite resourcing challenges, during 2024-2025 we were able to:

- visibly promote and celebrate National Reconciliation Week and NAIDOC Week with our employees and community
- continue with the RAPWG
- sponsor 16 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to gain tertiary qualifications.

Our Commitments

Relationships

We have a client, carer and family centred culture built around trust and respect and understand that these values are very important as we develop ongoing and meaningful relationships with all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

To create and sustain successful relationships, we will collaborate with each community separately to ensure all needs and aspirations are met.

Through our ongoing education, collaboration, and partnership opportunities, we will work towards inclusion and make greater progress towards reconciliation.

Strong relationships enable us to deliver culturally safe, person-centred care aligned to our value of “Understand the Person” and achieve better outcomes for the people and communities we support.
