The NDIS is changing

Here's what's happening and when

Changes to the NDIS are being introduced in stages over the next few years. We've put together a simple timeline to help you understand what's happening now and what's still to come.

Information current at October 2026. Subject to change.

2026

October

Funding changes begin

Changes to funding allocations have started for two types of supports:

- Social and community participation
- Capacity building activities

These changes are being introduced gradually as plans are created, reassessed or renewed.

2027

February

New plan renewal process begins

Funding changes will also start applying through the new plan renewal process. Not everyone's plan will change at the same time.

April – October

Changes to NDIS planning

A new approach to planning and support budgets is expected to be introduced in stages. We'll share more information about what this means for you as details are confirmed.

2028

Further changes to NDIS access

Changes to how people access the NDIS are expected to be introduced. These are separate from the funding and planning changes happening earlier.

Things to remember:

1. The changes are being introduced gradually
2. Not everyone will be affected in the same way
3. You don't need to make changes to your supports just because you've heard about a new NDIS announcement.
